RESOLUTION

concerning

WAIVER OF TUITION AND FEES FOR CERTAIN

STUDENTS FROM McLEAN HOME WHO

ATTEND CENTRAL CONNECTICUT STATE COLLEGE

September 9, 1977

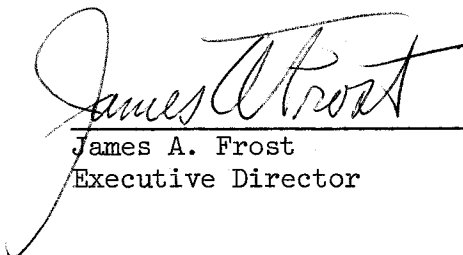

WHEREAS, The McLean Home, Simsbury, Connecticut, a facility for the physically handicapped, is located within commuting distance of Central Connecticut State College, and

WHEREAS, Physically handicapped persons who are patients at the McLean Home desire to attend Central Connecticut State College, and

WHEREAS, The cost for tuition and fees would be burdensome for some physically handicapped persons who desire to enroll at Central Connecticut State College, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the President of Central Connecticut State College be authorized to waive the required student tuition and fees for patients at the McLean Home who are permanently handicapped because of physical disabilities provided such patients are recommended by the Executive Director of the McLean Home and provided the Executive Director of the McLean Home certifies that without such waivers the patients would not be able to attend the College as students and, provided also, that the tuition waivers fall within the limits established by law.

Dear Mr. Frost:

On behalf of McLean Home and Mrs. Spirko, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to you, the Board of Trustees and President James for passing Resolution 77-91. We have felt for some time now that a waiver of tuition and fees for some students from McLean Home would be helpful and we sincerely appreciate your cooperation. Let me assure you that we by no means want to imply that this would ever involve great numbers of individuals, however.

For example, currently we have only two students enrolled for a course at another school. This is because we didn't have the arrangement worked out with you last September and this particular college was less expensive. We would anticipate using Central Connecticut in the future and we are sincerely enthusiastic and pleased with the Resolution. We really can't express how grateful we are to your Trustees.

Sincerely yours,

David R. Bailey

Dear Dr. James:

At McLean Home in Simsbury, we have a few handicapped persons who are interested in pursuing some courses at Central Connecticut State College on a part-time basis. Initially we are thinking of one (1) or two (2) courses per student. None would be pursuing a degree, however, all are capable of participating intellectually in college.

The three (3) students involved are on the Medicaid State Assistance Program because of limited personal assets. Therefore, they and we were wondering if you could grant them some form of waiver of the fees for tuition. I understand that a similar relationship has been in effect with students from New Britain Memorial.

I would appreciate your direction in order to pursue this further. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

David R. Bailey
